Dear Mrs. Gilpon:

One of the courses here at the Institute of American Indian Arts is Publication Arts. In this class we hope to publish a new type of class publication made up entirely of art works. Since this is a class production we are planning to do most of our own photography. We realize, of course, that in order to do this we shall need several well directed hints on lighting, setting, timing, and the phylosophy of taking pictures,

Knowing that you are one of the outstanding persons in this field, we were wondering if you could possible visit our class to bive a short lecture on the techniques of photography. We would not only be honored, but delighted to have you visit us here; if this would not be too great an imposition on your privity.

Should this be agreeable with you, please write us a short note or phone Mr. McGrath here at the Institute, and we shall arrange a lecture at your convenience.

Thank you,

Marian Fryer
