Mr. Newcomb Rice,
Box 1504,
Borger, Texas.

Dear Mr. Rice:-

My appology for forgetting to send the Ingram color print. As you will recall, it went in much later than all the rest of the order, and when it came in, I must have been in the midst of something with the result it got burried on my desk. I sent it off on Monday and Mrs. Ingram must have it by now.

I have been intending to write you for some time that two of the girls failed to get thier prints. They were finally returned to me. I then wrote to each girl but have never had an answer. This totals the amount of $29.21 with return postage added, which is a substantial part of the small margin of profit on such a job.

Shirly Hamilton	$17.37
return postage	.18
Jane Groos	$11.57
return postage	.09
	$29.21

I assume that the parents objected to the order, but in this case the youngster should not have ordered the prints. If you will send me the parents initials, I can write again, or if you wish to do so, that would be satisfactory with me.

I hope that your plans for the coming year are materializing well, and with best wishes to you both,
I am

Sincerely yours,

Shirley Hamilton
