Dear Miss Gilpin:

Thank you very much for your letter of the 26th. We are just about ready to go with the publishing of the report on La Iglesia at Chichen and will be using two of the photographs which you sent and which you had formerly used in your Hastings Publishing Co. book. As a matter of fact, I am having a meeting this afternoon with John Jennings, Associate Editor of the University of California Press and Crocker Publishing Co.

I am sorry I have held your transparencies so long and I will see that they get in the mail immediately.

I want to thank you very much for sending me the prints and as soon as we determine which of the prints we will use, I will write to you asking your permission and the cost involved.

Sincerely,
