Dear Mr. Adkins:-

I have been over on the reservation again, leaving the day I sent your prints. I intended to take your address so that I could write you from Gallup, but in the rush of getting off I didnt do it. I spent a whole day making a portfolio for your prints, only to have the back split as I was preparing to line it. I had great difficulty in finding any binding materials here in Santa Fe, particularly backing cloth. All I could find here was much to light in weight which was the reason it split. I shall go down to Albuquerque at the first opportunity and get the proper materials. I have a nice hand lettered label for the portfolio. But it may well be after Christmas before I can get down.

I trust that the package reached you safely and in good condition. I am pleased that you wanted to own this set of prints; and I hope you will continue to enjoy looking at them.

With best wishes for the holidays, I am

Sincerely yours,
