

March 7,
1963

Mrs. Robert C. Nangle,
Western Printing & Lithographing Co.,
850 Third Ave.
New York 22, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. Nangle:-

Please pardon my delay in answering your letter. Just very busy days that slip by so quickly.

I did not photograph the Quah Ah CORN DANCE painting in black and white, only in color. The painting is no longer in Santa Fe, as Mrs Deitrich left her collection to Dorothy Dunn Kramer in California.

I do have the color transparency, and can send it to you at once if you wish it. Would Miss Mille be interested in the Corn Dance original photograph of mine also on page 208 of the American Indian? I can furnish you a glossy print of that if you should wish it. The price for this use $25.

With best wishes,

Very truly yours,