Dear Margaret and Nat:-

Yesterday, when I got your letter about the cards, I simply answered it on your postcard right at the post office. I did not like to include my feelings of your so generous gift to the Indian Arts Fund on an open card.

In a few days you will get a formal letter from the organization, but I wish to send this at once with my personal thanks for your kind words to me, and for your gift to the Fund. I already have feelers out for the costume collection, and I have making all sorts of plans for a showing of these when the collection is complete. I do feel this a most necessary project.

I had a good trip to Navaho land, and in spite of the tragedy succeeded in getting the last pictures and in having many interviews to check on a lot of statements that must be verified. Now I shall go full tilt to finish everything and get the book off to the publisher before Christmas.

Why dont you give me a ring when you arrive on the 17th and I will bring out the balance of the cards, and will send the 25 out airmail. The order has gone in and I should have the prints by the end of next week.

Again my most appreciative thoughts and thanks to you both for your interest and help to the Indian Arts Fund.

Affectionately
