Dear Emily and Gerald:-

I didnt want to get into an argument over finances and what I owed you, because I cannot let you do all this. Mercy on us, we didnt ask you down for Thanksgiving to have you buy the turkey etc! Also there were several things you paid for me for my own business such as $5. for postage before I left, the bus charge on the package from Denver, etc. So please put this check into your bank account and let me feel that I have paid my debts. Had it not been for the National Tragedy I would have been home Tuesday instead of Wednesday and would have taken care of these things then.

I hope that you had a comfortable drive to Denver and that you find everything there all right. I regret that we are not able to make you more comfortable when you are here. I didnt even get the new shade put up for the patio door from the dining room. The shade was right here with the brackets, but it was one of many things I seem to have forgotten to do. I am sorry.

I shall get down to the Social Security office in a day or two and see what can be done about looking up Betsy's number. I always understood that she had never and one. And when her other insurance runs out, I will take over the rest of the payments on the house.

Keep well, and have a good holiday.
