Dear Mrs. Gilpin:

We received the returned COD package yesterday and the prints have been returned to you today. As strange as it may seem, the prints were not damaged even though the package was in a very bad condition. Incidentally, these prints were returned to you prepaid as I discovered in checking that you have a credit balance with us and we will just apply the price of this order against your credit balance.

In the future should a COD package be damaged on receipt, it would be perfectly okay for you to accept this package and if, after it is opened, you find any damage just return the order to us for reprinting.

Sincerely yours,

MEISEL PHOTOCHROME CORP.
