Dear Miss Gilpin:

Enclosed is a photostat of a photograph in our picture files which I believe was submitted by you to Jane Consolino some time ago. It is an Aztec painting on cotton showing the battle between the Aztecs and Spaniards, and is contained in the Sylvanus G. Morley Collection of Spanish Colonial material.

We would like to reproduce this picture in a forthcoming illustrated book for children entitled Cortez and the Conquest of Mexico. Would you be kind enough to give me the address of the Sylvanus G. Morley Collection so that I can write them for permission?

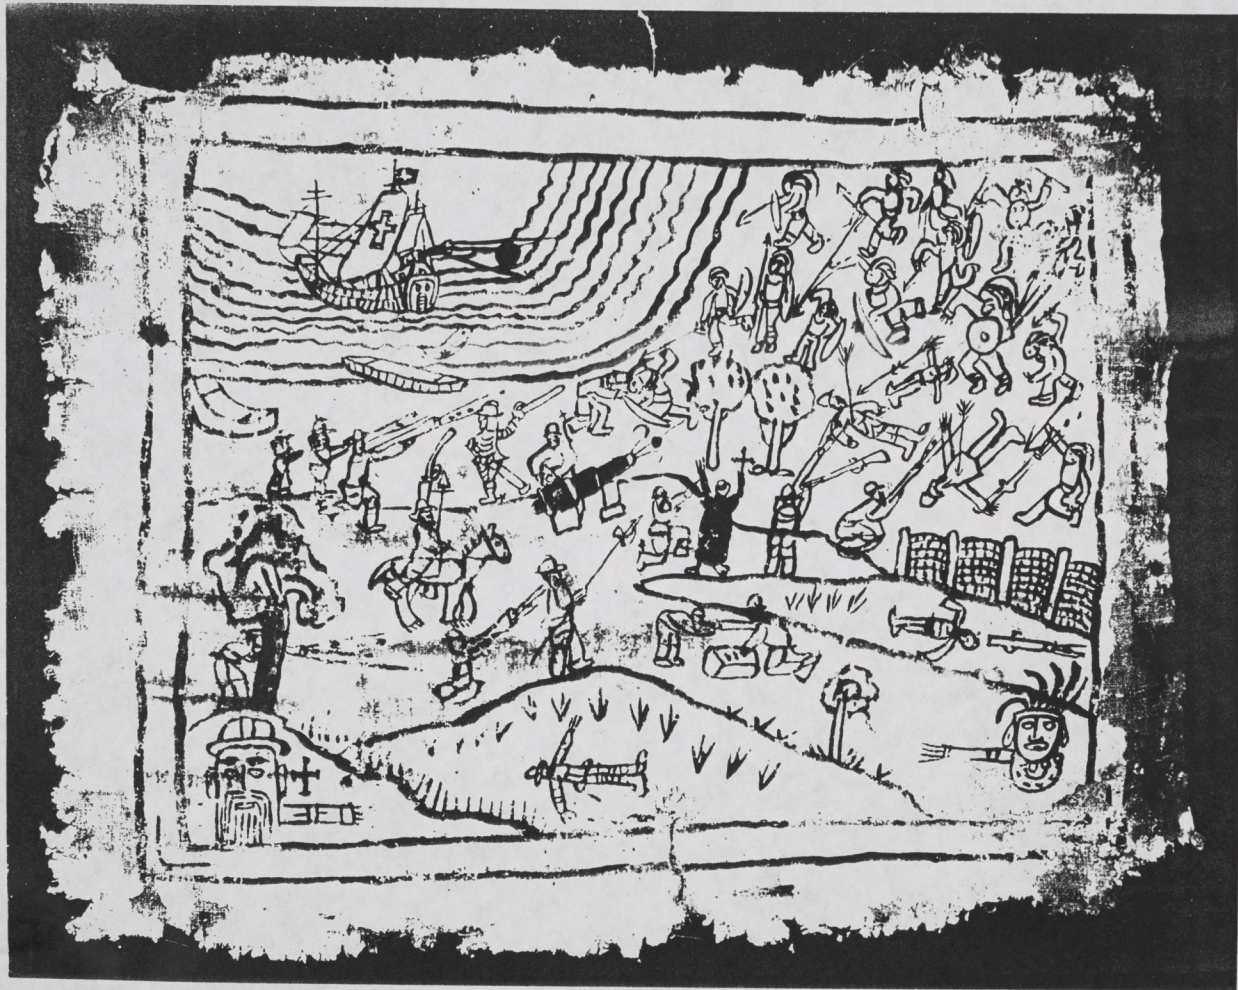

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Judy Harkison

Dear Miss Harkison:

Miss Laura Gilpin, of Santa Fe, has referred to us your inquiry of June 1 enclosing a photostat of an Aztec painting from the S. G. Morley Collection in our custody.

We are happy to permit reproduction of this painting in your forthcoming book: Cortez and the Conquest of Mexico. Credit should be given to the Sylvanus G. Morley Collection, Museum of New Mexico.

Sincerely,

Bruce T. Ellis
