Dear Miss Gilpin,

My mother, Gwendolen Mullins, whom I think you know, has suggested my writing to you. I am the Editor of this professional journal for all who care professionally for mothers, babies and young children. We like to have pictures of all kinds concerning mothers and children. I have been looking at your book, The Rio Grande, and was much struck by three of the photographs, those on pages 89, 93, 101. I should very much like to reproduce these photographs in our pages and I wonder whether you would allow us to do this and, if so, whether you still have the pictures. We would require large glossy prints or else transparencies. We would return the originals to you as soon as we have finished with them.

Also, if you have any other photographs of mothers and children that you have acquired during your travels, perhaps you would send them for me to see. I am most anxious to have photographs of mothers and children from different cultures.

I look forward to hearing from you.

With kind regards.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. Ann Mullins,
EDITOR.
