Dear Laura,

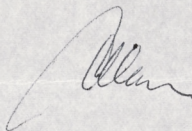

Rather than call you I am dropping you a line to give you a little background for a visit you will probably have from me, possibly Sylvia Loomis and John Meem regarding photos for a book the Historic Santa Fe Foundation is putting together on SANTA FE HISTORIC BUILDINGS AND SITES. The Museum of New Mexico is the publisher. As you know John Meem has been gathering together a number of photos on historic buildings for several years, a number of which are yours, which we plan to use. However, we are sure you have some nice ones that we may or may not know about that would improve our book. Thus I am enclosing a list of the buildings or sites to be in the book.

- 1) Santa Fe
- 2) Plaza
- 3) Palace of the Governors
- 4) La Castrense
- 5) Felipe B. Delgado House, 124 W. Palace
- 6) Donaciano Vigil House, 518 Alto St.
- 7) Barrio de Analco
- 8) Gregorio Crespín House, 132 E. De Vargas
- 9) Old Guadalupe Church
- 10) Olive Rush House (any garden scenes?)
- 11) Roque Tudesquá House, 131 E. De Vargas
- 12) The Boyle House, 327 E. De Vargas
- 13) Bandelier House, 352 E De Vargas (Kaune House)
- 14) Acequia Madre
- 15) Chapel of San Miguel
- 16) St. Michael's Dormitory
- 17) The "Oldest House."
- 18) Canyon Road
- 19) Juan Jose Prada House, 519 Canyon
- 20) El Zaguán
- 21) Dandall Davey House (~~full front porch~~)
- 22) The Borrego House
- 23) The Church of El Cristo Rey an exterior shot finds needed

We do have some good photos of most of these places; however, I am told you have an excellent shot of the downstairs bedroom of the Juan Rodriguez House (no. 24) showing the fireplace as well as the millstone step leading to the hall. Also we do not have to my knowledge one of the reredos of Cristo Rey or a good exterior view of Cristo Rey. We still are not sure what we want, but in the near future after Sylvia, John and I go over the material we shall contact you. Also we should appreciate what suggestions you have.

Cordially,
