Dear Miss Gilpin:

Last fall I enjoyed an hour viewing your photographic exhibit at St John's College. This is just a note of thanks for the warmth and memories your photographs brought to me. Especially the people you portrayed, are changing so rapidly since I came to this pueblo land in 1938.

One photograph of the Indian woman weaver, beautiful, austere, mystic, yet with a touch of a smile - I saw some of that again in memory in Georgia O'Keeffe's face - younger, in 1926. I was their guest at Lake George for over a week, Georgia's and Alfred Stieglitz's - privileged to be in their home and watch them work.

Better than through books, your photographs will keep alive, in the future, the Indians here and and Mexico, their homes, their land, the beauty of the past.
Thank you, again.

Sincerely yours.

Mr. Anthony Reymont
