Fred S. Bartlett, Director

Dear Laura:

It was so good to hear from you and I return your very good wishes for a Happy New Year. I hope by this time you are off the crutches.

Bob Shalkop, our Taylor Museum Curator, fortunately found the negative of the San Cristobal pictographs and it was mailed to you last Friday. You should have it by now.

I have seen the Navaho book - as a matter of fact, we have a copy for the library and have ordered some to sell at our desk. I am very happy to know that it is going so well. Also, I am certain that Mitch would hang the show beautifully. He has a great gift in that direction. Later on, when you are planning a routing of the exhibition, let us know what might be available, because certainly we would like to show the exhibition here.

My very best wishes,

Director
