

Dear Miss Golpin,

March 6, 1969

I hope you got the Village Voice review. If you want more copies let me know. May I suggest that you have your publisher send Mr. A.E. Coleman at the Village Voice Sheridan Square NYC 10014, a copy of your book. We sent a copy of the review to your publisher. Mr. Coleman (a doll!!) very often mentions things over and over if likes it very much. He pored over your book in the office here (with a young photographer friend, part Indian and a photographer too) and certainly cannot afford to buy a copy. IT certainly isn't necessary but would be nice.

Jim McGrath called yesterday and said your exhibit was postponed till the fall so when your letter came this morning, I was prepared. IT is ashamed... but let's hope good comes from it. You should be able to use your notices from the show. We will send installation shots as soon as we get them to make you feel you are here.

If you come at some time it will be lovely, if not we will just keep you informed. I have kept a list of people to invite should you come. Everyone express interest, but when the time comes, you never know! Everyone here is always a wreck! I will be away March 20 to April 3.

I'm so happy you are sending glossies, please do not hold up tracking them. In other words send what is ready. The sooner the better.

I plan to attack Mr. Beschin again and will send the new glossies down again when they arrive. I hope something appears this Sunday.

All best wishes,
Lewie
