Senator Barry Goldwater
Senate Office Building
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Goldwater:

Thank you very much indeed for your nice letter, and I am delighted beyond words that you approve The Enduring Navaho. It is particularly nice that you feel the same way about the Navaho people as many of us who have been associating with them for a long time.

I did not know that you had once owned the Rainbow Lodge, and I only wish I had ever been there and taken the wonderful trip down to the Rainbow Arch, but that is one of a number of places that I have never seen.

The book seems to be doing very well and it is gratifying to get many nice letters about it.

Now that you are back in Washington, I want to tell you that I am having an exhibit in the Department of the Interior Galleries, sponsored by the Center for Arts of Indian America, opening February 15th. It would be my pleasure if you are free and could be there. I remember seeing a long time ago some fine prints of yours and hope that someday I may see more.

I know that you have a good sense of humor and I wonder if you did or did not see the wonderful typo at the end of your letter. I have gotten many a good chuckle out of it.

With best wishes to you and many thanks for your letter, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Laura Gilpin
