Dear Miss Gilpin:

My friend Spencer Ross has advised me that you might be persuaded to consider holding an exhibition of your photographs at Long Island University.

Spencer also indicated that you might be coming east for an exhibition in relation to the Smithsonian Institution.

If you see any feasibility in arranging a show at the Brooklyn Center of our University, we should be mightily pleased. We have a large exhibition hall which can show almost any size print to advantage. We have displayed one-man shows of work by Andre Kertesz and Dennis Stock, and last year had the pleasure of showing Barbara Morgan's work. Barbara Morgan, incidentally, is a good friend of mine.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely yours,
