

Dear Laura, Appreciate your letters, but am quite desolated over the bad new about the loss of your exhibit! I intended to write today; this is just a quick note to assure you I will do everything I can to help. I am glad you gave my name, because I had a loss a few years ago (large prints-total value 3400) and was able to establish the appropriate value. Now I feel that the basic value of prints is 60% of their retail value (excepting those which are nor replaceable). In view of the fact that your exhibit was both a sales effort AND a promotion for the book, I think you have every right to ask for $8000.00. I do not think I would stress the individual sales value of the prints as such. It is the entire exhibit- as a unit - that counts.

We all send love and sympathy!!! More soon!!
as ever
