Dear Laura,

Recently I read in (I think) the Saturday Review, that The Enduring Navaho is out.
Congratulations! I want to give Perry a copy and I know that he would treasure it the more if you would autograph it — So I am enclosing a check to cover the listed price $17.50 and hope it won't be a chore for you to inscribe it — or ask your publisher or local bookshops to send it to me as it will be a surprise for his birthday in October -

He is deeply involved in Outward Bound - I shall send you one of the brochures, in which some of the photos are his. All of us believe in it strongly - (he so often has spoken of the visit with you & how inspiring it was to him!) Dartmouth College has made it a regular part of its curriculum. The first college to do so. One of the recent projects was in the last week in March - when he and another instructor

Took 30 students to Manchester, Mass. where they boarded 2 "long boats" and rowed 220 miles in 4 days and nights to Hurricane Island, (near Ws, in Maine) Hurricane is one of the first and largest of the Outward Bound Camps.

Carolee, my only granddaughter, just ~~off~~ out of college, spent her summer with the Colorado girls Outward Bound - they did one of the Powell trips, she said it was a fantastic experience —

What wonderful Adventure the young have these days.

You are one of the pioneers.
How greatly I admire and envy you!

Today I shall finish
John Terrell's biography of Powell.

What an interesting account of that fabulous journey!

With affectionate greetings —
Laura —
