Dear Miss Gilpin:

Professor Richard Rudisill has accepted the honor of serving as your escort while you are at the University to receive your honorary degree, and he will write to you soon about your accommodations, your time of arrival and departure, your transportation expenses, whether anyone will accompany you, and so on.

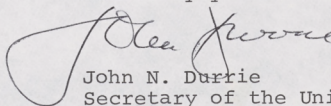

For preliminary information I am enclosing a printed schedule of events and you will note that there is a luncheon in your honor at 12:30 on Commencement day. You will be receiving an invitation from President and Mrs. Heady in due course.

I am also enclosing a memorandum of the honorary degree procedure at the Commencement Exercises. If this leaves any questions unanswered, please be sure to let me know.

A small reserved section in University Arena has been set aside for the use of Commencement guests of the University. If you will fill out and return the enclosed card at your convenience, I will be glad to send you later on whatever tickets you may need. As a participant in the exercises, you will not need a ticket yourself.

With best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

John N. Durrie
Secretary of the University
