Dear Mrs. Hirschfelder:-

Last week I had a letter from Mr. Wardlaw of the Texas Press about the fence picture you wanted. My hands were pretty well tied and I couldn't very well let you use it even without the quote until I had Mr. Wardlaw's permission. So I am glad that he has changed his mind. Now I am wondering if he was able to send you a print, (I don't think he has one) and shall I make you one? I was on the point of writing to you to ask if you wanted something else that was not used in the book. I have a study of a hand holding a rattle (not the one in the book) but holding one of the rattles with feathers attached. It may be too late to consider this, but if you do want it I can make it at once.

I am very sorry that so much time has gone by. I am finding that recovery from large doses of anti-biotics is worse than what they cure! I seem to follow the line of least resistance. Now that the first of March is here I am trying to "stir my stumps" as the saying goes.

Let me know if you want to consider this other picture.

With best wishes and my regrets at my slowness,

Sincerely
