Dear Miss Tonon:-

In cleaning up my work table yesterday, I found this print of the baby on the cradle board. I thought I had sent that off to you the day after you phoned me. Perhaps I did and this is another print. A big job descended on me just about that time and my memory is a bit vague. If this is a duplicate just disregard. I want to be sure. I enclose also a postcard of another picture which you might prefer. I would have to make a print of this from a copy negative as my original, unfortunately has a bad scratch on the face.

Please accept my apology if I overlooked sending this when I promised, and I hope if I did that this is not too late.

Thanking you again for your call,

Very truly yours,
