Dear Mr. Mekeel:

I didn't forget to send you a copy of the supplement to the Spring issue of THE GERONTOLOGIST, which carried Laura Gilpin's photograph of an Indian woman as one of the eight on the cover -- I intended to send one to her too -- but unfortunately our Washington office didn't order enough copies run. We ran short and it was too expensive to put the issue back on the press. I'm extremely sorry that I don't even have a tear sheet of the cover to send to you. I do, however, very much appreciate your help.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Marjorie Adler
Director of Publications
