Dear Miss Gilpin:

I am in the process of redecorating my apartment (mainly with American Indian art and artifacts) and would like very much to use the photograph I ordered from you through New York's Riverside Museum in the autumn of 1969. I received word from you at the end of January 1970 that you had been very ill, hospitalized, and were consequently behind in your orders. I know what it's like to be deluged with work and also to be in poor health (as a matter of fact, it is recuperating from a case of acute bronchitis that affords me the opportunity to write this letter), so I fully understand the delay, but I am most anxious to have the photograph and would appreciate your giving it your earliest possible attention. Thank you.

Sincerely yours,

John K. Donaldson, Jr.
