

Dear Laura,

During the past few days you, of course, have been uppermost in the thoughts of many folks.

This morning on the Today TV show my thoughts travelled straight to you when Frank Magee quoted some one's saying, "Security is knowing full well what you can do without." This may be a little obtuse, but that's what happened to my thoughts.

With affection,
Audrie

5 Jan '72