Dear Laura:

I can't grieve for Miss Foster herself - released from a long and somewhat dreary bondage - but I do grieve for those left behind. You will miss her, I know, although the close companionship you've known so long was marred and saddened by her lengthy illness.

I only knew of her death by the New Mexican yesterday.
and (no - today's paper - am getting sloppy ?!) send my gift in her memory.
