Dear Mr. Bush:

I received the check from you some time ago and waited to receive the rest of the prints before writing to you again. So much time has gone by that I am wondering if there were any misunderstanding about these.

The fee of $100.00 was for the use of the group of 16 photographs in your display for the year 1970. The value of these prints at that time was $525.00 and the agreement was that they would be returned to me when your exhibition came down.

I hope there has not been any confusion regarding this. It may be that you have been waiting for someone to bring them here rather than packing and shipping them.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely yours,

Laura Gilpin
