Milo M. Naeve, Director

Dear Laura:

A local collector has brought me a fascinating series of photographs on the subject of Indian Life in New Mexico by a photographer whose name is Harmon Parkhurst. I would judge by the style and type of photographs that they must date from the 20's and 30's.

I find no information here about Parkhurst, and I am writing you in hopes that you may have some information or be able to place me in contact with someone who could give me comments about his life.

I have made arrangements to exhibit the photographs, possibly this summer; and I would, of course, hope to have some comment about the man and his work.

My best wishes.

Yours sincerely,

Director
