Dear Laura Gilpin,

Last year the Feminist Art Program published Anonymous Was A Woman. By asking women artists to write about themselves we started a dialogue which has only begun to repair the injustice inflicted upon women's cultural history.

Now we continue this dialogue by asking you to write about your own work. We believe that your art deserves to be perceived as you intended. We hope that the publication of this book will provide a means for the beginning of a new critical language. Responsibility for the place of women in history rests with women. We cannot begin our efforts without you. You are the content of this book.

Please send us a letter stating the intentions of your art and a photograph of your work which we can reproduce on a single page. Also we would like to have an 8" x 10" black and white glossy photograph of yourself. We sincerely hope you respond to our request. Our firm publication deadline is April 3, 1975.

Thank you,
Feminist Art Program
