Dear Mrs. Gottlieb;

I am full of apologies for the long delay answering your letter, but various things have happened in my life that have me far behind.

I am pleased to learn that you have one of my Navajo prints, and that you are interested in the Ranchos Church picture. It is probably much too late now for you to include my Ranchos Church photograph, but you may do so provided that the proper credit line accompanies it.

There is the possibility of a whole new edition of my Rio Grande book, and in addition to this, the photograph is individually copyrighted. Please let me know if you wish a glossy print of this and I will make one for you.

Very truly yours,

Laura Gilpin
