Dear Laura Gilpin,

Back in June, 1964 I was fortunate to purchase from you a print of your photograph, "Three Navaho Women Returning from a Trip to the Trading Post". It has hung on the wall in our dining room all these years and, as anticipated, has been a great source of pleasure to me, to my husband, to our three boys and our friends.

Currently, I am compiling a book of reproductions of selected photographs, paintings, watercolors and graphics of the St. Francis of Assisi church at Rancho de Taos.

I would like to include your photograph of the church which appears on page 77 of "The Rio Grande, River of Destiny".

May I have your permission to include this photograph in my book in progress, "Rancho de Taos Church - The Artist's Eye"?

Can you supply me with a suitable 8"x10" black and white glossy copy of this photograph?

I would like to know the size of the original print and the year in which the photograph was taken.

cordially,

PC Gottlieb (Mrs. David)
