Dear Miss Gilpin,

On behalf of myself and Mrs. Roberts I want to extend our strongest apologies for the misuse of your copyrighted photographs. Of course we had no idea that the painting had been copied or we would not have accepted it. Mrs. Roberts is not in town so she knows nothing of the matter, but I will tell her the whole story when she returns.

The painting has been returned to the artist's agent with a full explanation and reassures me the picture will be destroyed.

I am so terribly sorry for the misunderstanding; our gallery's reputation is most important to us as is your copyright. Very best wishes,
Virginia Watkins
(Director)
