Dear Ms. Greenberg;

My apologies for being so long in answering your letter. I have been swamped with moving into some new quarters, getting settled and getting things in order and getting to the type-writer has been put off for a long time. I note your request about using some of the Navaho pictures in your new edition. Can you designate by page number which ones you are interested in? I must also write to the University of Texas Press regarding this and receive their answer. I have been having a good many requests along this line and find the book seems to still be going strong. It will be necessary to have their consent as well as mine.

My little book on the Pueblos has long been out of print, but again, if you can locate a copy so that you can see what it contains, you might select from there. Also, I have much newer work than that on hand. At the present time I am very far behind with work, and it may be a while before I can make any new prints for you, though I might have a few glossies in the file. With best wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Laura Gilpin
