

October 22, 1976

University of Texas Press
Accounting Department
P.O.B. 7819
Austin, Texas 78712

Gentlemen;

This is to acknowledge receipt of your check for $242323; thank you very much. I notice the statement refers in price to the 4th printing, which is now $25.00. But the number of volumes sold must include some from the 3rd printing. As I like to keep an accurate account of this, I would appreciate it very much if you would send me the numbers sold from each printing. The total sales seem to have dropped a little bit, which is to be expected with our present economic conditions.

Very truly yours,

Laura Gilpin

LGsm

October 22, 1976

Accounting Department
University of Texas Press
P.O.B. 7819
Austin, Texas 78712

Gentlemen;

This is to acknowledge receipt of your check for #242323; thank you very much. I notice that the statement refers in price to the 4th printing, which is now $25.00. The number of volumes sold must include some from the 3rd printing.
As I like to keep an accurate account