Dear Ms. Gilpin:

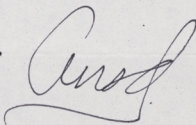

I have become familiar with some of your photographic work through Popular Photography recently, and I believe that you could have a fine show here in New Orleans. I would like to invite you to show here.

If you would write me details such as the print size and the number of works and their price range, along with a few suggested dates late this year or early next year (or even further off then that), I will be glad to look into some possibilities for you and write these too you. Please included information on whether you carry your own insurance when you send a show.

There are several very fine galleries here which might be interested in showing your photographs. Please let me know if you are interested. I will be passing over Austin, Texas in June just before your show opens. Unfortunately, I will not be able to get to see it, which I much regret since the pix must be very beautiful.

Sincerely,
