Dear Ms. Brush-Morales,

I must apologize for my very lengthy delay in not answering you sooner, but because of being out of town, away from the gallery, and closed for the Christmas Holidays, I have found it almost overwhelming trying to get all my correspondences answered. I am truly sorry for this delay.

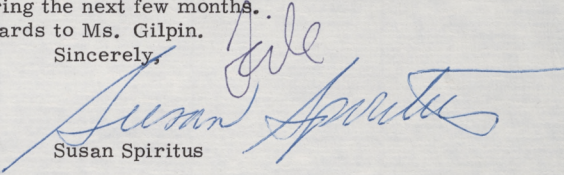

I do, however, have very good news at this time and that is that I have sold two platinum prints, "Still Life with Bowl" and "T. B. Clinic." I hope to be able to forward Ms. Gilpin a check as soon as I have been paid. There is another print being considered at this time as well, "Church at Picuris." I shall keep you well informed of any sales.

With regard to the platinum prints I took (on consignment) to the New Orleans Museum of Art: I was under the impression that I would be able to retain them in the gallery for sale, especially since we had planned an exhibition of Ms. Gilpin's work in the Fall. It is my opinion that the less frequently the photographs have to travel back and forth, the better off they will be. So, I would prefer not to have to send those I have back to you at this time.

Ms. Gilpin had expressed a preference for her exhibition during the fall of 1977. At this time we have a fairly open schedule for that time of year, and would be able to schedule any time which would be convenient for her to print the forty photographs for the gallery. We can make more definite plans during the next few months.

Please send my best regards to Ms. Gilpin.

Sincerely,

Susan Spiritus
