Dear Ms. Brush:

Thanks very much for your kind and helpful letter of September 10th. As you can see from my address, I have made the move from Fort Worth for the National Endowment for the Humanities seminar here at UNM, so there has been a little delay in my getting my mail.

I have looked back through the Navaho book (wonderful!) and I am interested in the 8 x 10's or possibly 11 x 14's of these shots: p. 28 (woman with son and lambs); p. 21 (covered wagon shot); and any photo of Miss Gilpin's early period (perhaps in the '30s) which captures the life and character of the Navahos. Perhaps you could suggest another source where Miss Gilpin's earlier photos might be found so that I could better describe these photos.

I am especially grateful to hear that there might be a possibility of interviewing (I really should say "visiting") with Miss Gilpin in the spring. I surely will call then. Until then, I look forward to hearing from you and wish you both a beautiful and content fall season.

Sincerely,

Shelley Armitage
