Dear Laura,

Marion had no address for you, so sent your letter via me.

I believe I sent you a note after we had seen the C.S. Magazine; but we've been so hysterically busy the past few weeks that I'm not certain. And I do want you to know how pleased we are for you that the magazine has the appreciation of your achievement and did their articles well. It is our introduction to the publication.

We sent a copy to Gladys Wesler (Roger's Mother, about to be 93 years old) who was so delighted to know that the world is getting to know you, and is sending it on to her grand-daughter Tina who is one of your ardent fans. Barbara, Roger's sister, has one of your photos of the Sacred Well which she Treasures - What a fine time all of us had that spring in Chichén; I can still see the boys heaving to carry some of your equipment and you racing up those narrow steps to get there when the clouds were just right. We rejoice that you are still having a wonderful time with life, and that we've been able to know you all these good years. As you know, we treasure your gifts and the good memories.

With our much love and many thanks, Hazel and Berwin

"The Colorado Springs magazine - with all that wonderful appreciation of Laura Gilpin and her work. It's hard for me to read ordinary print but I struggled and read every single word.
What a fascinating person she is. She certainly deserves all the praise and it is so wonderful to have it given to her, while she's here to enjoy it."
