Dear Laura Gilpin:

I am a photographer in the midst of completing a personal project which will require that I be in the Santa Fe area in mid to late December. The project actually involves over a year of travel working in the purist tradition.

While in New Mexico, depending on schedules and weather etc., I should much like to visit with you if you have a few moments and possibly enjoy looking at some of your work as well.

I'm sorry I can't precisely pin-point the time of my arrival in Santa Fe but since I will be driving and working as I go this would be impossible to predict. I will, however, call you in advance as the time of my arrival becomes more definite.

Cordially,

King Dexter
