Dear Ms. Gilpin,

I just wanted to thank you again for all your trouble in rounding up the photographs for us, and to apologize for any confusion and inconvenience we caused you. We were delighted to be able to have your work in our magazine and I am sorry that I didn't look more closely at the photographs myself and realize that they were slightly different than described. At any rate, no more need be done, and we all thank you again for supplying us with the photos and bearing with us through the various chaotic stages of publishing!

Thank you again,

Best regards,

Karen Evans
