Dear Sina,

Laura's prints arrived some days ago in fine shape. They are now nicely framed and have joined others in our small but growing home gallery. She is in good company with Adams, Smith, Lauch, Cappington, Tice, Usselman, De Cock, Bayless and others. New prints are always the most cherished however, and our Lelpin prints hold a special place on the wall and in our hearts.

Thank you for sending them along and thank the "grand old lady" of photography for her inspiration.

Sincerely,

David L. Hill
