Dear Laura:

I have pulled negatives number 2268 and 2269, both nitrates, for Linda to copy. Number 2268 is the Castillo steps and shadow, 2269 is the figures on the steps of the Castillo. Negative 2286 is not here. This is listed as the sunburst and is, I presume, the one you are seeking. Our series stops at 2285 and skips to approximately 2294, where it picks up once again. Could it be that 2286 et seq. were not nitrates and consequently we did not bring them to Fort Worth? Will you check your file to see if by chance this is the case, or perhaps we overlooked them. If they are nitrates, put them aside and we will bring them back on the next trip.

Ron Tyler and I are trying to work up the production details for a group of your pictures in some small format. We will bring samples to you before anything is decided, of course. I will also try to have a sample of the Caponigro Stonehenge print which I mentioned to you on the phone.

Fond greetings to all.

Yours,

Mitchell A. Wilder
