

from the desk of

ELEANOR E. ULLMANN

Dear Jo:

Herb and I have enjoyed this beautiful book of Laura Gilpins. Some of her portraits are particuarly magnificent - she is a true artist and professional!!

It is a fine thing to have this record of the Na vaho tribe so beautifully and so thoroughly represented. She has not only known them but done much research which makes it a real réxt book as well as a thing of beauty.

We've been deeply interested in the Southwest Indians for a good many years, even before we came to Arizona to live (21 years ago) and feel more acquainted with the Pueblo tribes than the Navahos - have been in many of the Pueblos and seen their ceremonies.

Clint and Kathryn Croke
were planning to do some further visiting of the Navaho country before returning home here this month.

Thank you for letting us enjoy The Enduring Navaho and our congratulations to Laura Gilpin.

Eleanor