Dear Miss Gilpin,

We're still looking forward to publishing a card of your photograph of Bonnie Hampton's hands-and-'cello, and have been watching the mail and waiting for the photograph.

It's been two months since we wrote asking you to send the photograph and it just occurred to me that you may have sent it already but that that it has been gobbled up by the Postal "Service"; at any rate, it hasn't reached us yet and we're anxious to get along with the project.

Perhaps it should be sent registered or certified.

Again, our many thanks.

Sincerely,

Thalia Polos Guy
