Dear Miss Gilpin:

First of all I would mention how pleasant it was speaking with you by phone last week. I believe that you would be pleased with the display of your photographic work from our collection that we are showing currently in the gallery.

Once again your thoughtfulness and generosity toward the Fine Arts Center is most evident. It is very kind of you to return the $441 which would have been your portion on the sale of the two prints at our recent auction. Accordingly, we have entered this in our record as a tax-deductible gift. We are currently planning to purchase something for our library with your gift money so that in perpetuity a tangible object or set of objects may be associated with your benevolence. I shall write you again when the specific item or items have been selected.

Thank you again - for this specific gift of course - and also for that affection and confidence in our institution that it seems so clearly to represent.

Sincerely,

William Henning
Curator of the Fine Arts Collection
