Dear Miss Gilpin:

I hope this letter finds you well and as busy as usual. And, I hope the past winter was a bit more gentler on you than it was on us. It seemed it would never end!

I am writing to find out if you would be willing to again visit with one of my photo classes from Colorado Mountain College as you did last September. That visit with you was very rewarding to all of us and we so much appreciated you taking the time to meet with us. I am hopeful that we can make arrangements to do that sort of thing again.

The format of the class would be similar to last year's. We would visit with Frank Waters (hopefully) again and with you. From Santa Fe we would go to Chaco Canyon. The group would be small (no more than about 10) and we would like to visit with you for an hour or two to look at and discuss your work and to discuss photography in general. I would also like to try and schedule the trip at about the same time, around the last two weeks of September. Would that be convenient for you?

Please let me know if you would be willing and available to meet with us. Also, could you do me a favor? I would also like to meet with Eliot Porter, if possible. Could you give me his address so that I might write him?

Sincerely,

Douglas Minchart
