Dear Laura:

I hope you're feeling well and enjoying the end of the Santa Fe autumn.

I'm writing to inquire about a technical point. Last week I showed some of your early platinum prints to Dr. Estelle Jussim, an authority on the technology of graphic printing and early photography. She was quite intrigued by the yellow cast of some of the photographs and wondered whether you used a gum bichromate process or a toner on the platinum prints. If you can remember, I'd appreciate hearing from you so that I can respond to Dr. Jussim and label our prints more accurately.

All my best to you and your household.

Sincerely,

Marni
