

July 14, 72

Mr. Steve Rice,
University of Texas Press,
Austin, Texas.

Dear Steve:

For a long time I have been trying to get a letter off to you about several things. But first and order to deliver a book in England to the enclosed address. It goes to an important person. I enclosed the check for it made over to the U.T.P.

Somehow I had a feeling that you were coming this way before long. I have wanted to write telling you that I was over at Canyon de Chelly very briefly late in April and found to my surprise that gift shop at the Thunderbird Lodge did not have The Enduring Navaho but had never heard of it. I gave them your name and address and I trust that this situation has been rectified. Maybe you did not have the address right, but here it is again. JUSTIN'S Thunderbird Lodge, Box 548 Chinle, Arizona.

I am hoping to go over again sometime soon after the 21st of this month

My best wishes to you two and to all the Press,

Sincerely yours,

How near the end of the second printing is the book?