Dear Miss Gilpin:

In your copy of the letter addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Owings there is a typographical error. Six additional plates would cost only $3,000, not $13,000.

Mr. Wardlaw noticed this before he signed the Owings letter and we retyped it, so it is now correct, but your carbon copy had already been put in the envelope with your other letter and had been picked up by the postman. So I must ask you to mark it yourself. I am sorry for the inconvenience.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. Margarette Sharpe
Administrative Assistant
