Dear Mr. Kern,

In the fall of 1972, we are planning to publish AMERICAN INDIANS TODAY by Olga Hoyt, a book for young readers about the way some 200 tribes are living throughout the United States today. We are in desperate need of photographs, and came upon these pictures in THE ENDURING NAVAJO by Laura Gelpin, published by you.

Would it be at all possible for you to grant us permission to use these pictures (xerox copies enclosed) in our book? Would it also be possible for you to send us prints suitable for reproduction? We'd be delighted to give you whatever credit line you'd want in the book.

Deadlines are well upon us, as I'm sure you can understand, so any attention you could give this matter as soon as possible, would be deeply appreciated.

Looking forward to hearing from you, I am

Yours sincerely,

Phyllis Hoffman
