Dear Laura:

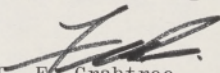

A formal note to cover our conversation on Sunday.

I am very anxious to do an exhibition based on your photographs of the Rio Grande book with particular emphasis on the river itself and the related landscapes.

You will remember that I was anxious to do the show in late November or early December if possible, but I realize that will depend on your work load and the availability of prints.

As much as I would like to consider acquiring a corpus of your prints, I am afraid at the moment we must think only in terms of an exhibition. Naturally, I am very interested in your thoughts on what financial arrangements would best suit you.

With fondest regards,

G. F. Crabtree
